

Alexandria Gazette.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 25, 1905.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 6:20 a. m. and sets at 5:07 p. m. High water at 5:23 a. m. and 5:45 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section rain to-night. Thursday clearing and colder, winds becoming northerly and increasing.

Tugboat Raised.

The tug Spray, which sank in her dock between Cameron and Queen streets recently, has been raised and pumped out and it is understood the tugboat will be given a general overhauling and put in order for service again. The Spray has been employed in towing stone-laden scows from the quarries at Occoquan to Washington, and it is understood she will return to that service when she goes into commission again. The Spray was at one time a private yacht and was used on the Potomac by her owner. At one time she belonged to the Arrow Shipbuilding Company which in 1887 pretended they were about to build at the shipyard in this city a steamer 540 feet long to be known as the Pocahontas.

Struck with a Plate.

Virginia Nelson and Belle Reeves, both colored, became involved in a difficulty in the northwestern section of the city this morning, during which the latter used a plate on the cranium of the Nelson woman. She received a cut which sent the blood cascading down her face and clothing, and in this condition started toward the Alexandria Hospital, attracting considerable attention as she passed through the streets. Upon reaching the hospital it was found that her injuries were not serious. Belle Reeves, it will be remembered, was taken to the hospital several weeks ago with a bullet in her leg, her husband having shot her during a row.

Fugitive Captured.

Charles Baltimore, colored, was arrested last night by Officers Bell and Mayhugh charged with drunken and disorderly conduct and for being a fugitive from justice. He was brought into the Police Court this morning and had his case continued for the reason that he was under the influence of a drug or whisky. Baltimore, it will be remembered, several weeks ago was found in Mr. M. Schuler's store, on upper King street, and escaped leaving his hat in the store. He was later arrested and while at the station house succeeded in making his escape, since which time he had been a fugitive from justice.

New Officials.

The Common Council last night elected Mr. F. J. Pollard a member of that body to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. James Patterson from the Third ward. Mr. Pollard is a well-known business man of this city and his selection meets with general approbation. A joint session of the two boards of Council was subsequently held for the purpose of electing a Police Commissioner from the Third ward, and Mr. August Oehlert was unanimously chosen. Mr. Oehlert has for many years been identified with the business interests of Alexandria, and he will doubtless prove a practical and useful member of the board.

Weddings.

The marriage of Miss Lulu Whiting and Mr. Garrett Floyd Saunders took place last night at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. B. Davis, 211 south Alfred street. The bride was gown in white organdie and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Rev. J. P. Stump, pastor of the M. E. Church South, officiated. The wedding was entirely a family affair. The wedding of Mr. Robert Forsythe Downham and Miss Mary Regina Greenwell will take place at the bride's home this evening at 7 o'clock.

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of this morning: Charles Baltimore, colored, arrested by Officers Bell and Mayhugh charged with drunken and disorderly conduct and for being a fugitive from justice, had his case continued. A man who had been cited to appear by Lieutenant Smith for obstructing a street while engaged in granolithic work was dismissed with an admonition. A man, arrested by Officer Bettis charged with abusive language toward a woman, was dismissed.

The New Ferry Steamer.

As heretofore stated, the new ferry-boat Woodbury will leave Wilmington, Del., next Saturday for Washington, and she is expected to pass this city Sunday afternoon. Invitations have been sent to a number of Alexandria officials, business men and others to go on a trial trip of the new steamer next Monday. The Woodbury will leave this city about half-past 11 o'clock in the morning and will go down the Potomac as far as Marshall Hall.

Fell from a Wagon.

Mr. John Harlow was painfully injured this morning at the intersection of Cameron and Lee streets by falling from a wagon. The accident was caused by the seat of the vehicle being dislodged from its position. Mr. Harlow fell into the street, cutting his head and wrenching his side. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home, where he was attended by Dr. Jones. His injuries, while painful, are not of a dangerous nature.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon, instead of Friday, at 4 o'clock, at the Children's Home on Duke street. The ladies of the union and also friends of the home are requested to meet at 2 o'clock for the purpose of sewing for the children. If convenient, to stay until after prayer meeting the ladies are requested to bring their supper. The prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock, to which all are invited.

Fine Sausage.

Messrs. P. Pulman & Co. are now making a fine grade of handmade sausage which can be had at their store at the corner of Duke and Alfred streets. The best materials are used in its manufacture and the sausage is finely seasoned. Messrs. Pulman & Co. keep for sale fine and select meats of all kinds and a general stock of fine groceries, etc.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

In addition to those heretofore mentioned the grand jury yesterday returned indictments against Wallace Twyman, charged with robbery, Fred Lee with housebreaking, and Dennis Harris with grand larceny.

Judge Nicol has referred the cases of John C. Nelson and James La Fontaine, charged with violating the gambling laws of the State, to Magistrate J. E. Supplie, of Jefferson district, for trial, and the hearing will be held in the Del Ray schoolhouse November 1. Bond in the sum of $500 for each defendant was furnished.

The court was occupied this morning in hearing arguments in the condemnation proceedings of the Washington Southern Railway Co. vs. Swann. The petition filed by the Swann heirs was dismissed on the ground that the right of way over a certain part of the property had neither been asked for nor condemned.

Com. vs. J. W. Gaines, colored, indicted for selling liquor without a license; case in progress.

The Arnold Stock Company.

The Arnold Stock Company scored another hit at the Opera House last night in "Midnight in Chinatown." The house was crowded again and the melodrama was thoroughly enjoyed and vigorously applauded. Clyde Franklin again played the hero part, while Miss Beall played the part of the heroine, W. W. Shuttlesworth, as Frank Meredith, was excellent, and, judging from the hisses hurled at him, was all that could be asked. The company would certainly miss him if he did not handle the heavy roles. Peter Don, as the happy-go-lucky tramp, scored the hit of the evening and his playing was a success in every particular. The specialties were again of a high-class order, and each one was heartily applauded. Pauline Seymour, as Blanche Graham, was capable in every manner. Miss Seymour handles her parts as if she were born to them and gives fine support to the other members of the company. Tonight the company will present the New York success, "A Child of the Slums," with little Nannie in the principal role.

Progressive Euchar.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, have perfected arrangements for holding their progressive eucharist in the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall on Monday night next. The party will be for the benefit of the building fund of Lee Camp. A number of useful and pretty articles have been donated by residents of this city and Washington, among which will be two tons of coal by Mr. W. A. Smoot. There is a miscellaneous collection of articles, including clothing, furniture, bric-a-brac, etc.

Body Found.

Off Magazine wharf about 10 o'clock this morning the police boat Vigilant picked up the floating body of a drowned white man about 6 feet in height with bald head. He wore an Odd Fellows' pin and seal ring with initials P. P. H. The cuffs worn bore a similar mark. The body was carried to the morgue in Washington to await identification. It had evidently been in the water for some time and was covered with mud.

Steamer Sold.

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company has sold the old ferry steamer Columbia to Mr. Joseph Heath, of Washington. It is understood that the engine and boiler will be removed from the steamer and that it will be converted into a houseboat. The upper portion of the Columbia was burned several years ago. The steamer was this evening towed to Washington.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tucker have returned from a pleasant visit to Loudoun county.

The Old Dominion Boat Club has arranged for the enlargement and remodeling of its boathouse.

Mr. E. Stuart Smith has purchased from Mrs. Catherine E. Heasley the grocery store at the northwest corner of Prince and Fairfax streets.

Mr. James Aker, living on south Fairfax street, had a chestnut to lodge in his throat last night. He sought a doctor this morning who succeeded in dislodging it.

Complaint has been made to the police of the conduct of certain men who sit in front of the Citizens' Bank on King street and violate the law concerning spitting on the sidewalks.

Cloudy weather set in yesterday evening and was followed by light rain before the close of the day. Other showers fell during the night. Similar conditions have prevailed today. Clearing and colder weather is predicted for tomorrow.

A union meeting for the promotion of Sunday school work in this city will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Rev. Dr. Gilbert, of Washington, will be among those who will deliver addresses.

Dining room open every Sunday during oyster season. C. H. Zimmerman, Market Space.

PRIME PORTO RICO MOLASSES, just received by J. C. MILBURN.

The Emma Smallwood Case.

A dispatch from Hyattsville, Md., says that the coroner's inquest in the case of Emma Smallwood ended late yesterday afternoon with a verdict to the effect that Emma Smallwood died some time between 9 o'clock a. m. on Monday, October 9, and 8 o'clock p. m., Thursday, October 12, on the premises of Col. John Hancock, from the effects of a criminal operation performed by some person or persons to the jury unknown, and that Winfield Scott Hancock and Mrs. Amanda Mackall, his sister, were cognizant of and accessory to the act.

The announcement of the verdict was received with surprise, the evidence against these people being generally regarded as purely circumstantial. Although the jurors were sworn to secrecy as to the testimony adduced, enough was learned to warrant the statement that little light was thrown on the affair in addition to that already given in the press reports from time to time.

It is not expected that Mrs. Mackall will be placed in actual custody, but will, probably, within the next few days, go through the formalities of giving bail for her appearance at the April term of court. She will give bond in the sum of $5,000.

The President's Speech.

President Roosevelt spoke to the colored people at Tuskegee Institute and to the people of Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala., yesterday. In his Tuskegee speech he said:

Viewed from any angle, ignorance is the costliest crop that can be raised in any part of this union. If in any community a misunderstanding between the races arises over any matter, infinitely the best way out is to have a prompt, frank and full conference and consultation between representatives of the wise, decent, cool-headed men among the whites and the wise, decent and cool-headed colored men.

The race cannot expect to get everything at once. It must learn to wait and bide its time, to prove itself worthy by showing its possession of perseverance, of thrift, of self-control. The destiny of the race is chiefly in its own hands.

The future of the South now depends upon the people of both races living up to the spirit and letter of the laws of their several States and working out the destinies of both races, not as races, but as law-abiding American citizens.

Spanish Republicans.

The Spanish Senators and Deputies favorable to the establishment of a Spanish republic having been forbidden to personally address President Loubet, who arrived in Madrid Monday to return the visit of King Alfonso to Paris, have published an address of welcome which in reality is a manifesto in favor of a republican form of government. It says:

"The republicans of Spain greet the ruler who is the free choice of the people he represents. The adoption by France of a republican regime has carried the spirit of republicanism throughout the world. The visit of the republican President to Spain recalls the bloody struggles which the Spanish liberals made against traditions. Republican France represents the freedom gained by revolution, and it is toward the same end that Spain tends."

M. Loubet yesterday morning attended a brilliant military review.

Fifty Killed in Riot.

A dispatch from Santiago, Chile, says that about 50 persons were killed and 500 wounded during the recent rioting there. The troops are restoring order. During the day more troops reached Santiago and with their arrival relative tranquility prevails and the city is gradually assuming its normal condition.

A bitter feeling prevails against the authorities. The outbreak is not considered to be political, but is believed to be the work of rowdies who are encouraged by the absence of the troops at the maneuvers. The police force was unable to cope with the rioters. The officials of the street railroads estimated the damages done to their property at about $250,000.

Alleged "Tainted" Blood.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The decision of the court of arbitration as to the right of succession to the throne of the Principality of Lippe is expected today. The question had been pending since 1895, when Prince Waldemar, the reigning prince, died. The two claimants for the throne are Count Leopold and Prince Adolph Wilhelm, of Schaumburg-Lippe. The question of the right of succession has hinged on which of the two claimants had the purer royal blood. Count Leopold's cause has been injured by the protests made by Prince Adolph that the Count had blood of an American merchant in his veins through his mother, the Countess of Wartenleben, who was Miss Mathilda Halbach, of Philadelphia. Count Leopold has retaliated by stating that one of Adolf's ancestors married an obscure plebeian which tainted his royal blood.

Alleged Pirate Craft.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 25.—Although the net spread by the police of this city has failed so far to entrap in its meshes Henry H. Jackson who is alleged to be the captain of the "pirate" craft, Dorado, there have been several developments which will aid materially to clear up the mystery surrounding the Dorado's movements along the shores of Narragansett Bay and Long Island Sound. The most important feature has been the arrest of Otto Stiefel, who admitted to the police that he was associated with Jackson, and his companions. Stiefel was brought here from Providence last night, and placed in jail. The purpose is to have him identify the plunder found aboard the Dorado, and the catboat Besse, and tell the authorities where it was stolen.

Everybody's Magazine for November has been received from its publishers in New York, and the variety of its subject matter makes this number one of special interest. In "Frenzied Finance" Mr. Lawson gives fragments of American financial history never before related. An illustrated article tells the amazing story of "The Rothschilds of France." "The Night that made me a Revolutionist" is the heart-breaking autobiography of a young Russian student. The Orient is vividly brought before the reader in the description of "The Sacred Animals of India." The history of "Ella Rawls Reader, Financier," is continued, and Eugene Wood contributes a humorous essay—"Chickens." Fiction is represented by nine bright stories, and reviews of books, music and art complete this issue.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The bull-fight at Madrid, which was arranged in honor of President Loubet, of France, during his visit to Spain, was prevented by a rain storm.

A dispatch from Christiansia, Norway, says the proposed proposal to subject the question of the choice of a king to a plebiscite will be discussed on Friday. Masked robbers blew the safe open in the Private bank of Harvey Hoag, at Barker, N. Y., this morning, and succeeded in making their escape with their booty. The amount taken is not yet stated.

Thirty horses perished in a fire which destroyed the barn of Frank W. Smith, a contractor in the rear of 36 south Orange avenue, Newark, N. J., this morning. Snyder places his loss at $15,000.

Why He Wanted a Tenner.

Application was made at half a dozen stores before the man could get one ten dollar bill for his roll of ones. "I don't see," said the man's companion, "why you went to get that trouble. You are going to pay the money right over to your tailor. Why didn't you give him the one dollar bills?"

"Because it would make a bad impression," was the reply. "I am broke, but I don't want him to know it. When ever you get in that fix pay your debts in the largest bills that you can get hold of. It enhances your value in the estimation of tradesmen and paves the way for further credit. A fellow will think a heap more of you if you pay with one five dollar bill than with five ones. A handful of chicken feed indicates that you have had to hustle around pretty lively to get the money and that there isn't much left where that came from. A man who really has money can afford to pay in pennies if he feels like it, but he who has little can keep up his credit only by using large bills."—New York Press.
